By: Rafique Ahmed*

Late Dr. Najmul Islam (dd.13th Feb, 2001) was the famous scholar of his time. He was the Chairman of Department of Urdu, University of Sindh, Jamshoro and Editor of the Departmental Magazine "Tahqiq". He spent most of his time in literary and research works and grooming his students. He specialized himself in research of Urdu language and literature.

He had deep personal relationship with the renowned scholars of Indo-Pak. Letters were the means of keeping in touch with one another at the time and he used the means efficiently and effectively. He wrote numerous letters to scholars regarding his research and literary activities. His letters have also given us an impact that he was involved in literary-social gatherings of his time.

In this research article, I have tried to emphasize Dr. Najmul Islam's deep involvement to flourish literary, research and social activities.
